

The Earl Project

Making Feels Good!

Burn-out Art workshops for veterans & soldiers. No fee.

Tell your story through art! No drawing or art experience required. Using photocopy, fire, and simple printing techniques, we'll create works that express you and your personal experience. These abstract, collage works may include photographs, documents, and cloth that you bring, or text from memories you choose to share. With help from artist teachers and fellow veterans, you'll create individual work to take home and contribute to our community war stories scroll, a new kind of graphic novel in cloth! We'll send more information when you register- choose a date and secure your place for a creative afternoon with other veterans and soldiers!
